My darling Toots:-

Had a very trying day, endeavoring to get located, but still have high hopes. I saw Colin to-day and got $12.50 from him which I immediately put in the bank. He was very nice, indeed, to me and asked me what I intended doing. I told him I wanted to go out for myself or get into connection with some one. He then informed me that he would try and get me into a certain office, but, of course, I took it on its face value, as I'm sure he will do nothing of the sort. Anyhow, I thanked him and told him how much I appreciated it. I then saw my friend Lowell Taylor and he is trying to get me into an office where I would take over the insurance business and the privilege of my own practice. That would mean free telephone service I sent, besides the use of the stenographer. I will hear further on that ~~too~~ probably Monday and I will let you know results.

As it is, I am getting around, seeing people, I will probably go up to Dr. Gold to-morrow, but I can hardly see how I can. Dr. Lazaro recommended me to a man whom I am to see to-morrow afternoon. I am in for a case or two, besides getting his naturalization papers for him. So far, prospects look bright. I am going to belong to a few societies to try and get some sort of recognition.

Believe me Toots, my uncle Sue is different from what he was. I suppose he begins to or rather realizes the futility of acting as he did. He is going to introduce me to the biggest men in Memphis, as most of them belong to his lodge. If Sue will be great if I can get in with them. It means quite a lot to me, only I am anxious. I simply can't settle my nerves. How I do wish I was settled already. I couldn't very well go in with that woman attorney as I couldn't induce myself to go in with the "female of the species". Maybe I'll do better somewhere else. Anyway, dearest, rest assured that I'm trying my best so I can do what you wish me. Toots, do you know, I simply can't be without you? I'm yearning for you. Just to kiss you, to hug you, take around and make you comfortable. Believe me, sweetheart, I'm giving up enough to get a start and ~~I'm~~ hope it won't be long before you are here.

How are you feeling, dearest? How's your foot? Are you wearing hard? Please take care of yourself. Are you having any trouble at the place? Oh how I wish I had a home for you already. Don't worry, sweetheart wifie mine, it will come. Be courageous and brave in the way you always were and I'm sure you will be in Memphis in the very near future.

How is Mondean feeling? I can't forget how she looked when she escorted us to the train, and it sure does tug at my heart. I would give my life to make you all happy and contented.

Toots, don't keep me waiting long for mail from you. As it is, I can hardly wait for the first letter, and write me everything, you hear? I want to know how things are.

With all my love to you, darling, and with a good night kiss and pleasant dreams, as ever

Lovingly your hubby,

Joe.
